

OVERVIEW

Edwin is an experienced management consultant with over 30 years' experience in a variety of roles and industries. Starting as management trainee with the Royal Dutch Shell Group world-wide staff, moving on to an IT start-up and then in various roles with Tandem, Compaq and Hewlett-Packard in The Netherlands and multiple IT consultancies in South Australia.

Through HP, Edwin worked in a variety of roles (managerial, consulting, and commercial) for multinationals such as ING Bank and Vodafone.

Edwin has developed a wide range of skills and deep functional and strategic knowledge of many industries and functions, including Finance, HR, IT, Marketing, Sales, Manufacturing and Supply chain.

Edwin predominantly works at the cutting edge of business, IT, and digital strategy, leveraging his people and execution skills.

KEY SKILLS

- Enterprise Architecture
- Strategy development and execution
- Human-centered design and design thinking
- Organisational change management
- Business process and capability modelling
- Application and IT infrastructure
- Business analysis
- Policy and governance
- Investment management
- Project and portfolio management
- Developing operating models and transformational roadmaps

QUALIFICATIONS

- Bachelor of Electrical Engineering (Industrial Automation), University of Utrecht
- Master's certificate in Project Management, George Washington University

EXPERIENCE SUMMARY

As a Principal Architect at Fragile to Agile, Edwin delivered business capability models, value chain mapping, digital strategy, architecture maturity assessment, ICT organisation review, reference architectures for a variety of clients, including Credit Union SA, ACH Group, Haigh's Chocolates, Drakes Supermarkets, Australian Centre for Business Growth, Australian Cyber Collaboration Centre, Adelaide Airport, Cobham Aviation Services, SA Health and the Department for Child Protection.

- Edwin delivered strategy workshops for the Department of Transport and Infrastructure for portfolio management and investment governance, regulation strategy planning and the enterprise information management capability development.
- Solution Manager overseeing multi-vendor solution integration as part of the Electranet enterprise integration strategy.
- Responsible for the planning and project management of Cobham's Engineering Transformation, including the implementation of a new ERP solution and new processes for maintenance, logistics, manufacturing, and regulatory compliance for three international business units ($20M project).
- Project manager for National e-Health Transformation (SA Health), building secure software to interface with My Health Record. The solution has become a national standard.
- Architect and Project Manager for subsurface data governance, management, and integration. Edwin also was the project management community or practice leader for Santos.
- Prior to migrating to Australia, Edwin was a management consultant in the world-wide strategy transformation team in HP Software based out of Amsterdam.
- Edwin performed various commercial roles including Client Principal, Solution Principal and Lead Solution Consultant for various key accounts and responsible for IT Service Management, Application Services and Cyber Security portfolios.
- Principal consultant (IT Start-up) building a company from scratch. Developing consulting practice for IT service and asset management and CIO advisory services.